Objektbeschreibung

This modern one-room apartment is located in a fully energy-efficient renovated historic building and offers new-build standards within a classic architectural structure. The entire building has recently undergone extensive modernization, including thermal insulation and the installation of new energy-efficient windows.

The apartment itself has been completely refurbished to a high standard, resulting in a first occupancy after full renovation. The open and well-designed layout provides flexible options for living, sleeping, and working.

A separate kitchen and a contemporary bathroom complement the apartment and meet modern living and comfort requirements. Bright rooms, high-quality materials, and a well-thought-out design create a pleasant and comfortable living environment.

This apartment is ideal for singles or professionals, who appreciate modern living combined with the charm of a refurbished historic building.

Ausstattung

The apartment has been renovated to new-build standards and is offered as a first occupancy after renovation. In terms of construction quality, fittings, and energy efficiency, the apartment is equivalent to a newly built property.
